

The Viterbi School
congratulates
Professor Satwinder Sadhal, winner of the
2007 JAMES HARRY POTTER
GOLD MEDAL
of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers

Professor Satwinder Sadhal

USC Viterbi

School of Engineering

Olin Hall 500
Los Angeles, CA 90089-1451
<http://viterbi.usc.edu>

Satwindar Sadhal, professor of aerospace and mechanical engineering in the University of Southern California Viterbi School of Engineering, has won the 2007 James Harry Potter Gold Medal for his scholarly achievements in the field of thermodynamics.

Sadhal was recognized for “advancing the fundamental thermodynamics of phase change and interfacial phenomena with seminal research on heat-mass transfer...and for lasting contributions to mechanical engineering through teaching and archival literature.”

Non-profit Organization
US Postage
PAID
University of Southern California